Just Jazz

June 2012

Hi Friends –

If you're a regular Sunday night listener to Just Jazz on 91.9 WNTI or wnti.org then you know about my "Just Jazz Presents..." feature hours, when at midnight I play a full hour of trombone, Latin, keyboard, big band, or vocal jazz. (And if you're not a regular listener just try to act like you know what I'm talking about.) Well, for the summer I'm going to do something different during those hours.

There is an incredibly informative and entertaining website called JazzStandards.com that actually has researched and ranked the 1000 most frequently recorded jazz standards. Crazy? Maybe. But it gave me a cool new programming idea – and I really could use one.

So Sundays during June, July, and August – with the occasional week off for special programs – from midnight to 1:00 (Eastern Time), I'll be counting down, in groups of 10, the top 100 most recorded jazz standards, as ranked by JazzStandards.com. And even if you don't always agree with the list and may wonder why some of your favorite songs were left out, you'll still dig the ones I play. After all, these are the tunes that everybody knows, everybody loves, and (obviously) everybody plays.

So join me for this "Summer of Standards" on Just Jazz.

Stay cool and keep list'nin',
Bob

SONGWRITERS ON SONGS

It's the lyric that makes a song a hit, although the tune, of course, is what makes it last.

– Irving Berlin

Words make you think a thought. Music makes you feel a feeling. A song makes you feel a thought.

– Yip Harburg

NEW & RECOMMENDED CDS

Curtis Fuller: Down Home (Capri): In 1957 twenty-two-year-old trombonist Curtis Fuller hit New York and took the town by storm, in that year alone appearing on nineteen albums as a sideman and an amazing six as a leader. Fifty-five years later he's still on the scene with a new sextet CD. At seventy-seven Fuller may be a "lion in winter," but he's still a lion of the trombone.

Susan Goodman: Central Park West (Soozaroo Music): This quartet CD by New Jersey-based saxophonist Susan Goodman is a real find. Her tenor timbre is full and deep, her soprano sound is rich and soothing, and her approach to popular and jazz standards reveals Goodman to be a most accomplished and inventive improviser. (Click here to listen to my interview with Susan Goodman about her other new CD project, Live Out Loud: On Bias Bullying, and Bein' Brave.)

Sheila Jordan & Harvie S: Yesterdays (High Note): This previously unreleased performance, circa 1990, by singer Sheila Jordan and bassist Harvie S captures the duo's inspired and spontaneous interplay as no prior recording of theirs ever has. In this live setting Sheila's legendary vocal inventiveness and sense of fun are completely unrestrained and uninhibited, as Harvie escorts her through every unexpected turn.

Anne Sajdera: Azul (Bijuri): Pianist-composer Anne Sajdera's fine debut release mixes her evocative originals with her personal take on works by Lins, Gismonti, Shorter, and more. A fixture on the San Francisco Brazilian jazz scene, Sajdera performs here with her regular trio plus guest artists, including the renowned Brazilian percussionist, Airtó Moreira.
