Just Jazz

November 2009

Hi Friends –

Did you know there was a New Jersey Hall of Fame? Well, there is, and this year Count Basie and Les Paul have been nominated for induction. (I had the same reaction: “You mean they’re not already in it?”) And here’s the cool part: you can vote for them, and you don’t even have to be a NJ resident. So click here to vote in the “Music” (Basie) and “History” (Paul) categories. By the way, in “Sports” the correct choice is the great Larry Doby, the first Black player in the American League. Voting ends Friday, November 20.

Do you know about jazzstandards.com? Well, you should. This is one amazing source for information about songs, songwriters, and performers, and among its many features is a detailed list of the 1000 most recorded jazz standards, in order, starting with – what else? – “Body and Soul.” You could spend all day there – and I have – learning more than you ever expected to about this great music of ours. To help entice you, here is one of my favorite pages. Check it out and enjoy!

Stay cool and keep list’nin’,
Bob

Quotes of the Month

A Johnny Mercer lyric is all the wit you wish you had and all the love you ever lost.

– Frank Sinatra

Johnny Mercer is the Lincoln of lyricists, the Shakespeare of songwriters. In short, he is America’s poet.

– Bob Bernotas

Recommended Internet Jazz Radio

Pure Jazz Radio: a 24-7-365 celebration of jazz, featuring the “Founding Fathers,” the current “Keepers of the Flame,” and everyone in between.

NEW & RECOMMENDED CDS

Thomas Barber’s Janus Bloc: Snow Road (D Clef): In Greek mythology the god Janus, typically depicted with two heads, was thought to possess the power to see both the future and the past. Trumpeter-composer Thomas Barber with his well-named ensemble, Janus Bloc, has created invigorating music that is aware of jazz’s past and looks ahead to its future, while bringing that future into the present. Trumpeter Claudio Roditi guests on two tracks.

Samuel Blaser: Pieces of Old Sky (Clean Feed): This new release by the accomplished young Swiss trombonist-composer Samuel Blaser and his working quartet is challenging, stimulating, and totally original. His music is not just on the cutting edge of jazz, it’s on the razor’s edge, peeling away familiar banality, shaving off comfortable clichés, slicing right to the core of true creativity.

Poncho Sanchez: Psychedelic Blues (Concord Picante): Master conguero Poncho Sanchez blends hard bop with Latin jazz, applying his percussive magic to classic tunes by John Coltrane, Herbie Hancock, John Hicks, Freddie Hubbard, and Horace Silver. There also are some terrific new originals and a “Willie Bobo Medley” that adds a groovy taste of boogaloo to this already spicy mix.

Gerald Wilson: Detroit (Mack Avenue): At the age of 91 — yes, you read that correctly, 91! — composer-arranger Gerald Wilson is still a major force in the world of big band jazz. The centerpiece of his latest CD is a swinging six-part suite, commissioned to commemorate the thirtieth anniversary of the Detroit International Jazz Festival. Two previously unreleased 2007 tracks supplement what is, without doubt, the best new big band CD of 2009.
