Just Jazz

December 2009

Hi Friends –

You know, one of the things I enjoy most this time of year is putting together my two special year-end Just Jazz shows. On Sunday, December 20 it's my "Cool Yule" Special – five hours of holiday music played by the greats of jazz.

Then on Sunday, December 27 it's my "The Year in (Just) Jazz" show – a look back at my artists of the month and what I feel were the best new jazz CDs of 2009, and tributes to jazz artists who died this past year.

I'm thinking that maybe this year I'll also honor some prominent political figures with a few specially chosen songs...

- "I Wonder What Became of Me" (for George W. Bush)
- "If I Ruled the World" (for Dick Cheney)
- "I Won't Dance" (for former Rep. Tom Delay)
- "Blues in the Closet" (for former Sen. Larry Craig)
- "Down Argentina Way" (for future-former South Carolina Gov. Mark Sanford)
- "Crazy" (for Rep. Michelle Bachman)
- "Cry Me a River" (for Glenn Beck)
- "South of the Border" (for Lou Dobbs)
- "Let's Go Get Stoned" (for Rush Limbaugh)
- "I've Got a Lovely Bunch of Coconuts" (for the Senate Republican Caucus)

And, of course, "If I Only Had a Brain" (for Sarah Palin) ...or maybe I won't.

Keep list'nin' and have a Cool Yule,
Bob

Quote of the Month

Entertainment is a word with many meanings. In its truest sense, it means great art. The greatest art is the most entertaining. It gives an audience the unforgettable excitement of unfolding a new idea and experience, a fresh revelation of a human personality. Such entertainment is possible, however, only when an audience, itself, knows something of creation, or is willing to use its mind, to think, to enter in active collaboration with the artist.
